

Earthquake

By Dilan

One dark morning in Mammoth I heard a big huge booming sound as loud as lighting. I thought it was my mind playing tricks on me.

It was 5:00 a.m. on Tuesday morning. I was in our condo in my bed in Mammoth. Bryce (my brother) and I were sleeping in the loft upstairs.

It all started when I just woke up from a dream. I was trying to go back to sleep when I heard a huge blast. I jumped under my covers terrified and thought it was Bryce talking in his sleep.

The next thing that happened was I heard two more blaring noises. I jumped under my covers more terrified than ever and I started to cry.

Finally, my mom called up and said "Come on down Dylan and Bryce!" Bryce and I came down and my mom told us that it was a earthquake. We cimld into my moms and Gramo's bed and my Gramo did not go to sleep because I kept on moving.

I will never forget this experience because that was the biggest and the 2nd earthquake in my life!
